Understanding Revisions and Reversals

Last Modified on 11/06/2026 7:52 pm EST

Sometimes you may need to correct or reverse an AIA style billing application after it has been finalized:

- Revision: Correcting errors in a previously submitted application
- Reversal: Completely backing out an application that should not have been submitted
- Use revisions and reversals to make corrections. Crediting an invoice on an AIA Style Billing job directly (for example, with Credit Off Job Invoice or Create Credit Request) is not available.