

SedonaOffice Help

Last Modified on 12/15/2022 11:09 am EST

Selecting this option will display a help program built into the SedonaOffice application. This tool is used to search for and display information related to options and functions within the SedonaOffice application. Users may also use the shortcut key F1 to open the help tool.

Note: The Help program is currently being re-written and will be available in the near future.
