

Account Register Overview

Last Modified on 01/10/2023 2:54 pm EST

All financial transactions created within SedonaOffice record to the GL Register table. Each transaction saved to this table contains a unique Register Number. The Account Register option with the General Ledger module, is used to view transactions posted to a particular G/L Account or to check the balance in the selected account as of a specific date. Drill-down functionality is available to see the entire Journal Entry which makes up the transaction. Follow the topic links below for more information on the functionality of the Account Register.

Using the Account Register

Account Register Filters and Options

Edit the Category Code on a Journal Entry

Account Register Data Column Definitions

Delete a Journal Entry

Register Type Definitions